

Letting Go and Letting God

I am God. I am the third member of the Holy Trinity - Jesus Christ. I have come to learn to listen to my heart in all cases - and to know it as my Father's continual Guidance of me.

While I have not accomplished much in this physical world in these last 20 years since my '7 Days on the Mountain with God,' - I have accomplished a tremendous amount in my spiritual life - which is captured in all my websites and the ideas/plans I have developed for this world. It is time to stop - and to rest.

I don't have faith or belief. I have knowledge. I know God. In the last 20+ years He has made Himself physical to me in several forms - each time to assist my progression. I actually see God in many forms - in my life at present. God made Himself female and came to me as Norah Jones in my '7 Days on the Mountain with God.' He then came to me as Noel for an entire summer and showed me much of Himself. He told me (through His still, small voice) that He was Philippe Messier - an amazing man who came to me when I was starting NuVo in 2001. He also came to me in the form of Miles Krol - an amazing young man - also helping my progression considerably with NuVo.

And now I feel His presence in a young man I really love - Justin Duncan. He is young - 32 years old - a tremendous athlete - super intelligent - and just a really nice guy. I want to give him all the benefit of my knowledge and experience - but - I don't want to spoon-feed him. The desire to succeed and initiative must come from him. I know Noel is Guiding him. I know he will be successful - in the greatest of ways - in his own business (JD Renovations) as well as on a much grander stage with G3, NuVo, G3 Golf and IMAGINE! Global Communities - and everything else he will be involved in as my right hand man with G3.

For now I must be quiet. Very quiet. This entails not initiating with anyone to the best of my abilities. For the time between now and July 1, 2025. I must act in COMPLETE FAITH (100%) - knowing that everything which needs to get done is being effected by Noel, Norah and all the angels - both of the supernatural and terrestrial kind. Everything will get done - perfectly.
